

2016

Artbeat

columbus, ga

Coloring Book

March 28 - April 9, 2016

About the cover:

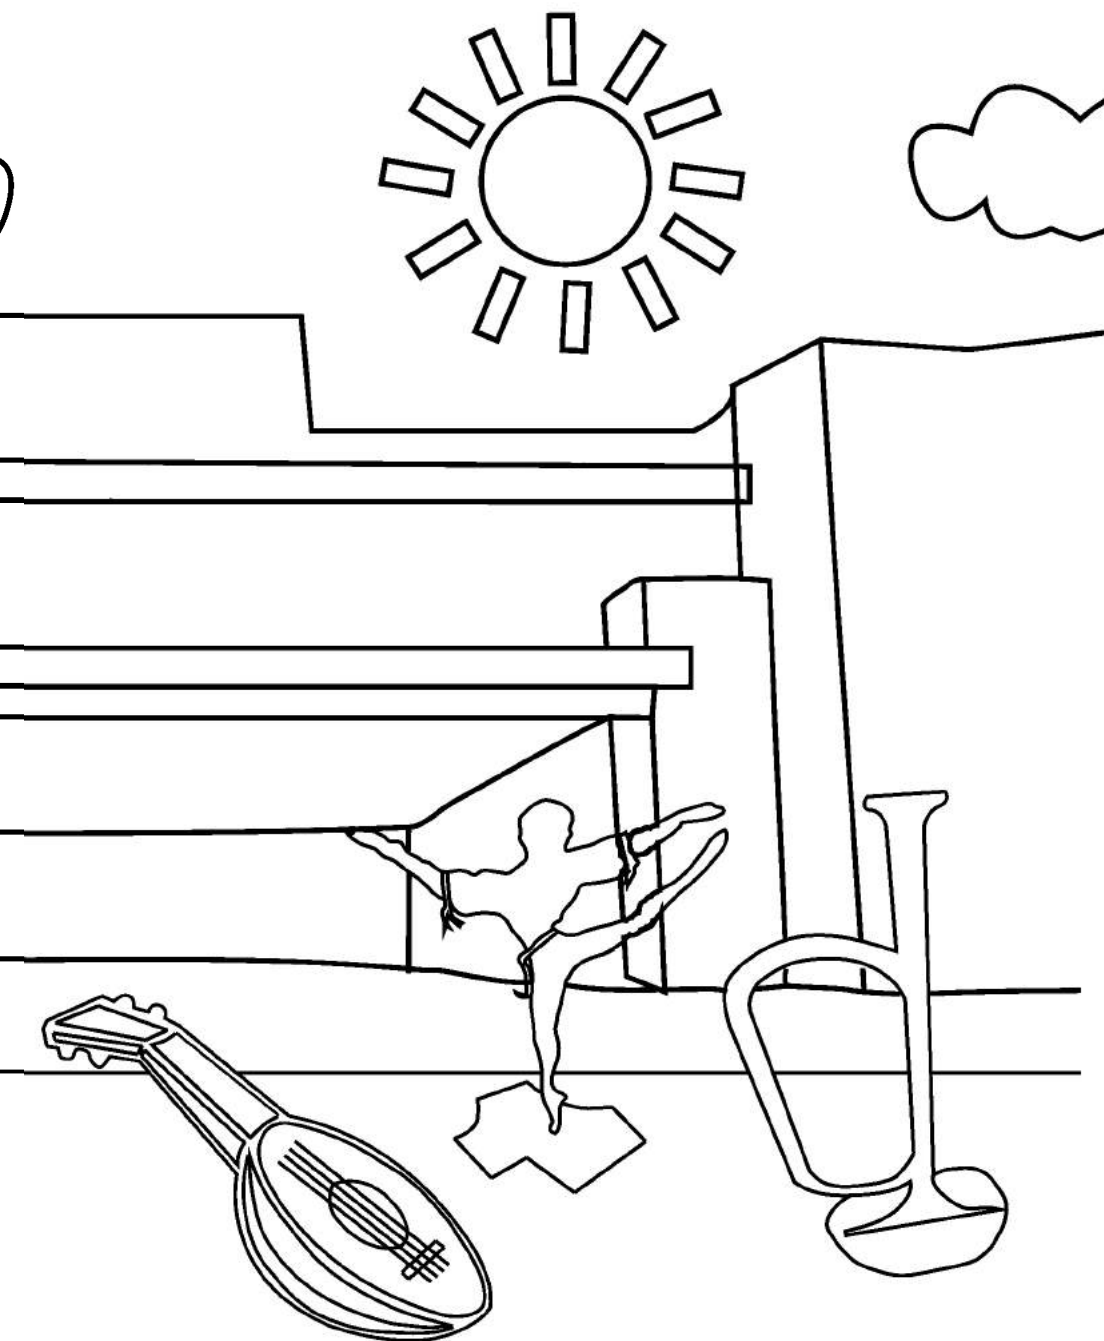

"Slanted #3" by Ida Kohlmeyer

SE Corner of 10th Street & Broadway

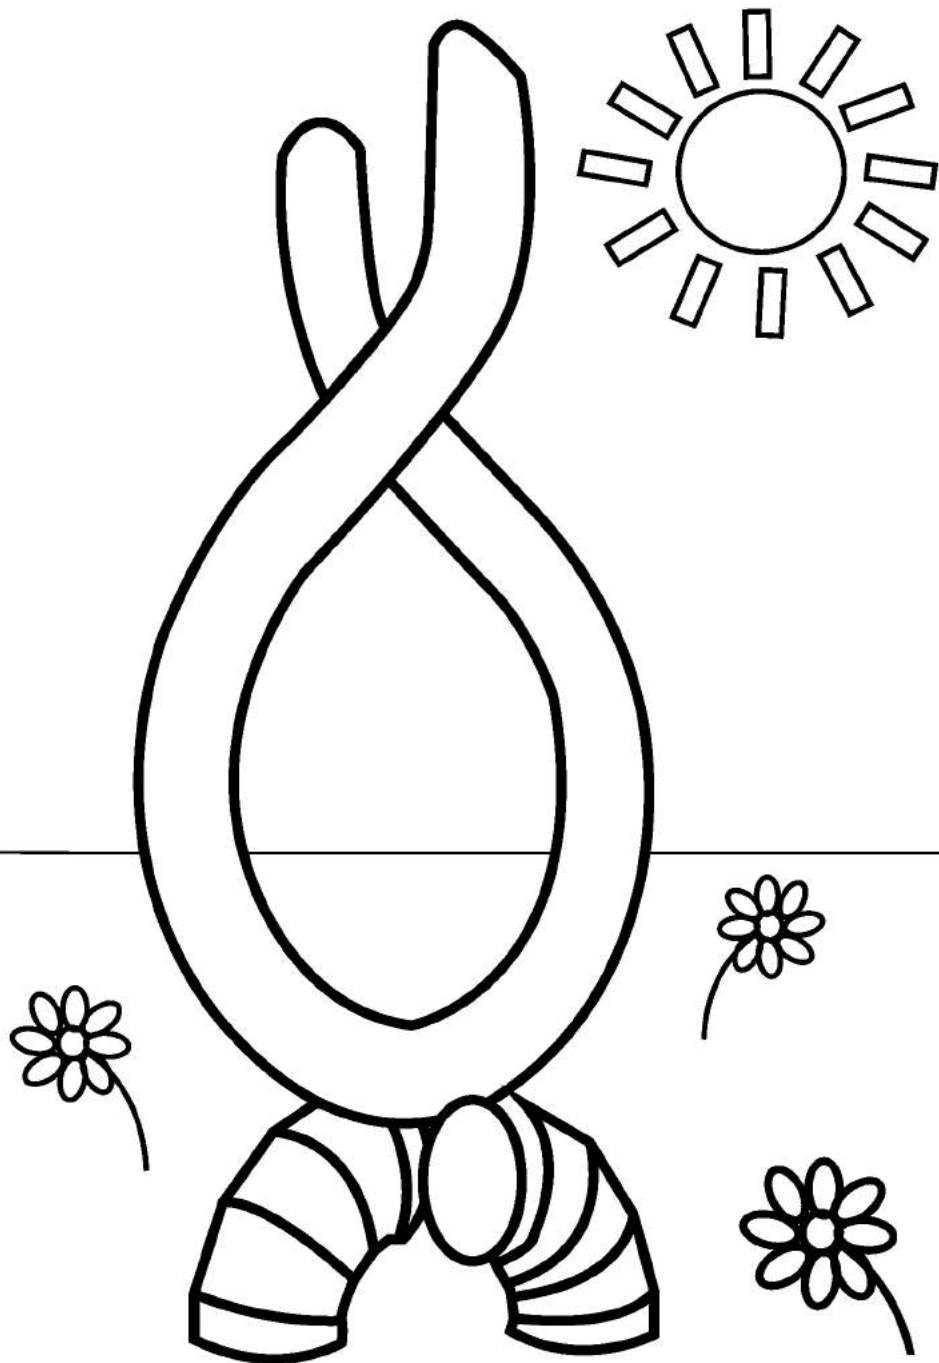

Ida Rittenberg was born to Joseph and Rebecca Rittenberg in 1912. Her parents were Polish immigrants who established a pawnshop business in New Orleans, where Ida was born and raised. It was here that Ida studied English Literature at Tulane University and received her B.A. in 1933. Her interest in literature transformed into a fascination for the Latin American arts after she met and married her husband Hugh Kohlmeyer in 1934. Her growing desire to paint led Ida to attend the John McCrady Art School in 1947 and later take classes at Tulane's Newcomb College as a special student under the direction of Pat Trevigno. She graduated from Newcomb College and received her M.F.A. in 1956. She went on to attend summer classes in Massachusetts where she was instructed by the great Hans Hoffman and was highly influenced by Abstract Expressionism. In 1959 she held her first solo exhibition at the Ruth White Gallery in New York. In 1966 Kohlmeyer was commissioned by the Peace Corps to make a painting as a gift for a retired Sergeant Shriver. She was also appointed the associate professor of art at the University of New Orleans in 1973, and in 1982 she was acclaimed as an honorary life member of National Women's Caucus for Art. As a painter and sculptor Kohlmeyer was well known and represented on both the west and east coasts. She died on January 29, 1997 at the age of eighty-five.

"The Muses
By Ann & Mitch Moore,
RiverCenter Lobby,

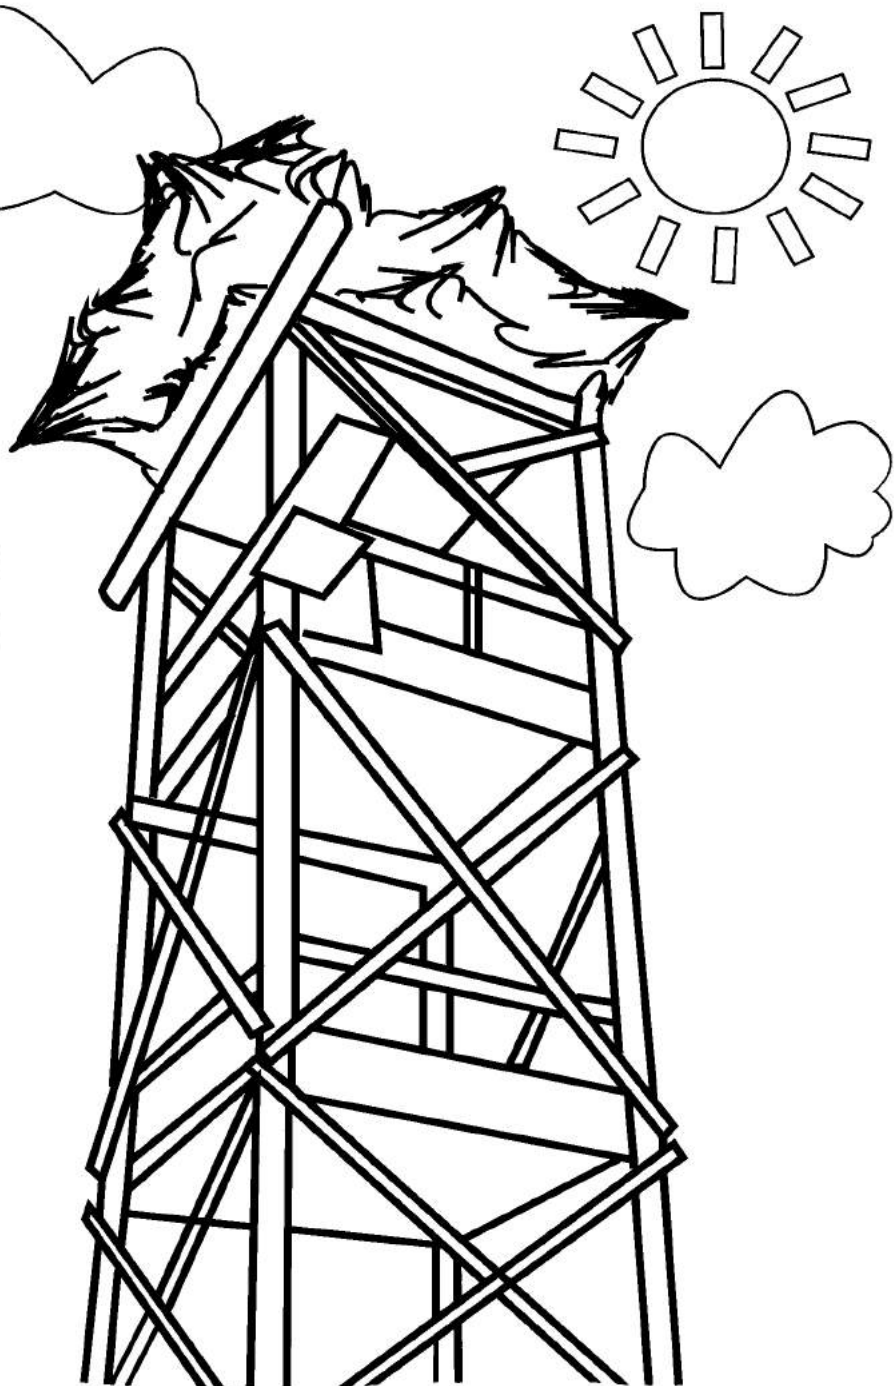

of the Arts"
Smokey Bartlett
900 Broadway

"All of the Above"

By Duke Oursler

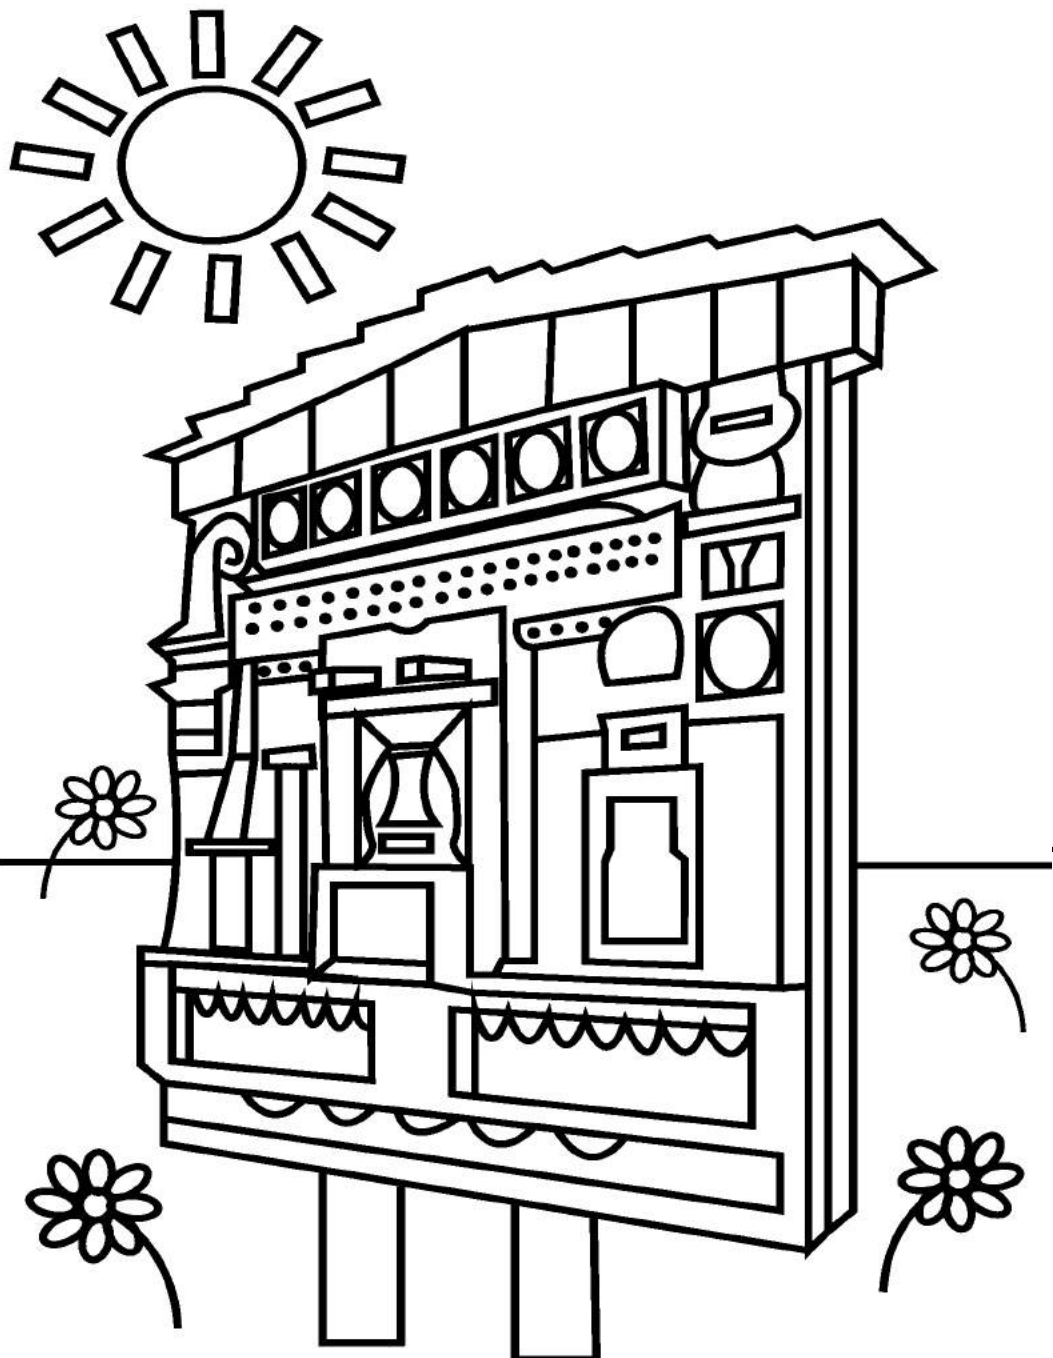

Broadway Arcade between 11th & 12th Street

"Blue Heron's Nest"

By John Schley

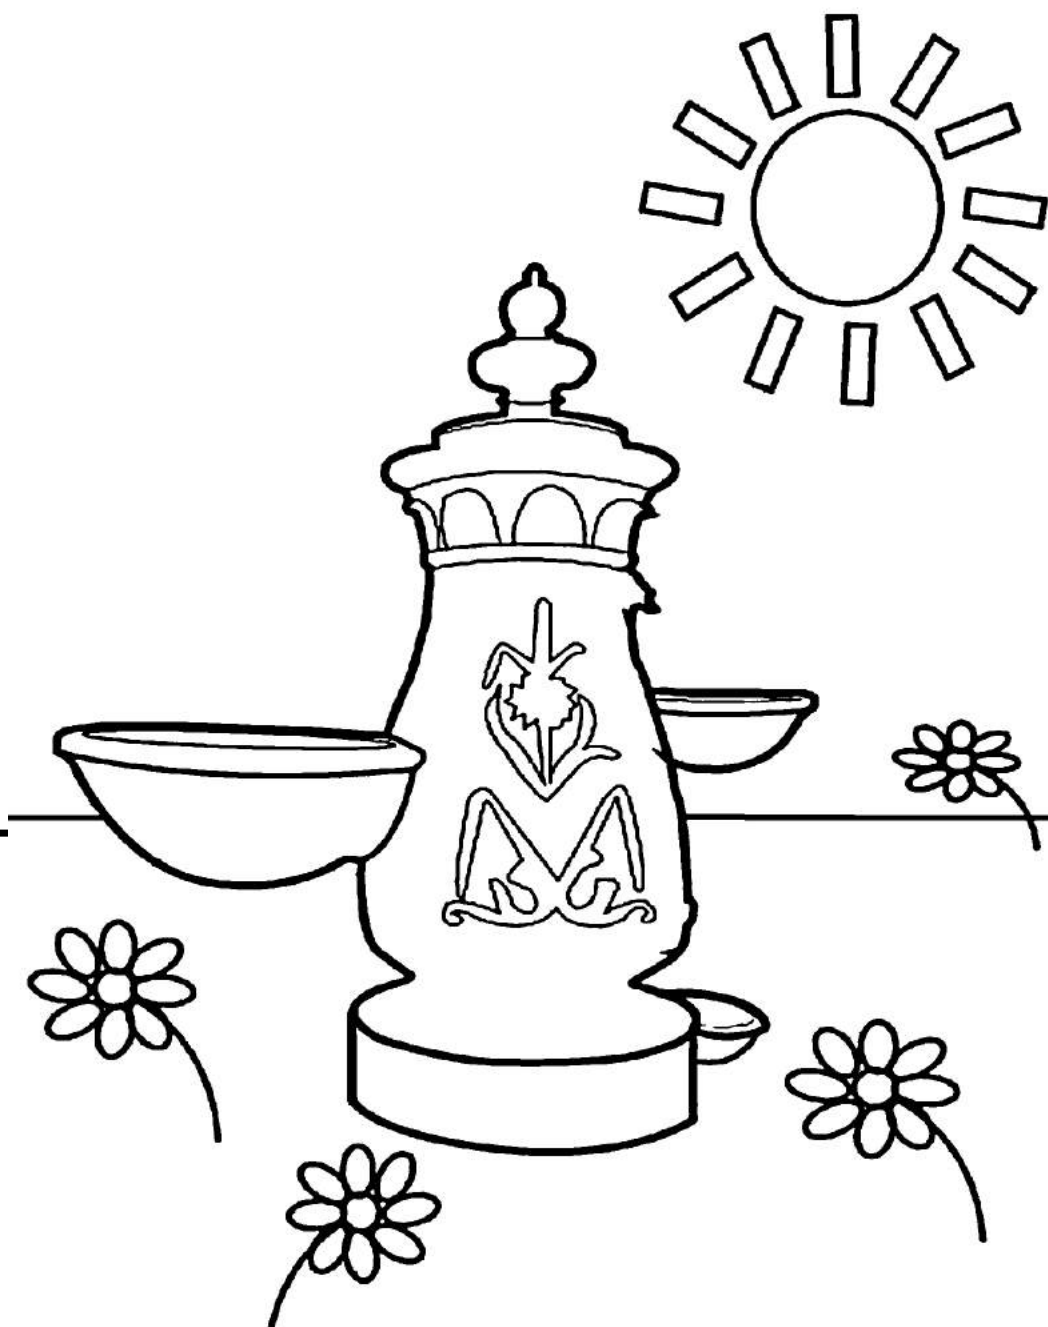

Bay Avenue at 11th Street

"Architectural Quilt:
Bits and Pieces of Columbus, GA"

By Garry Pound

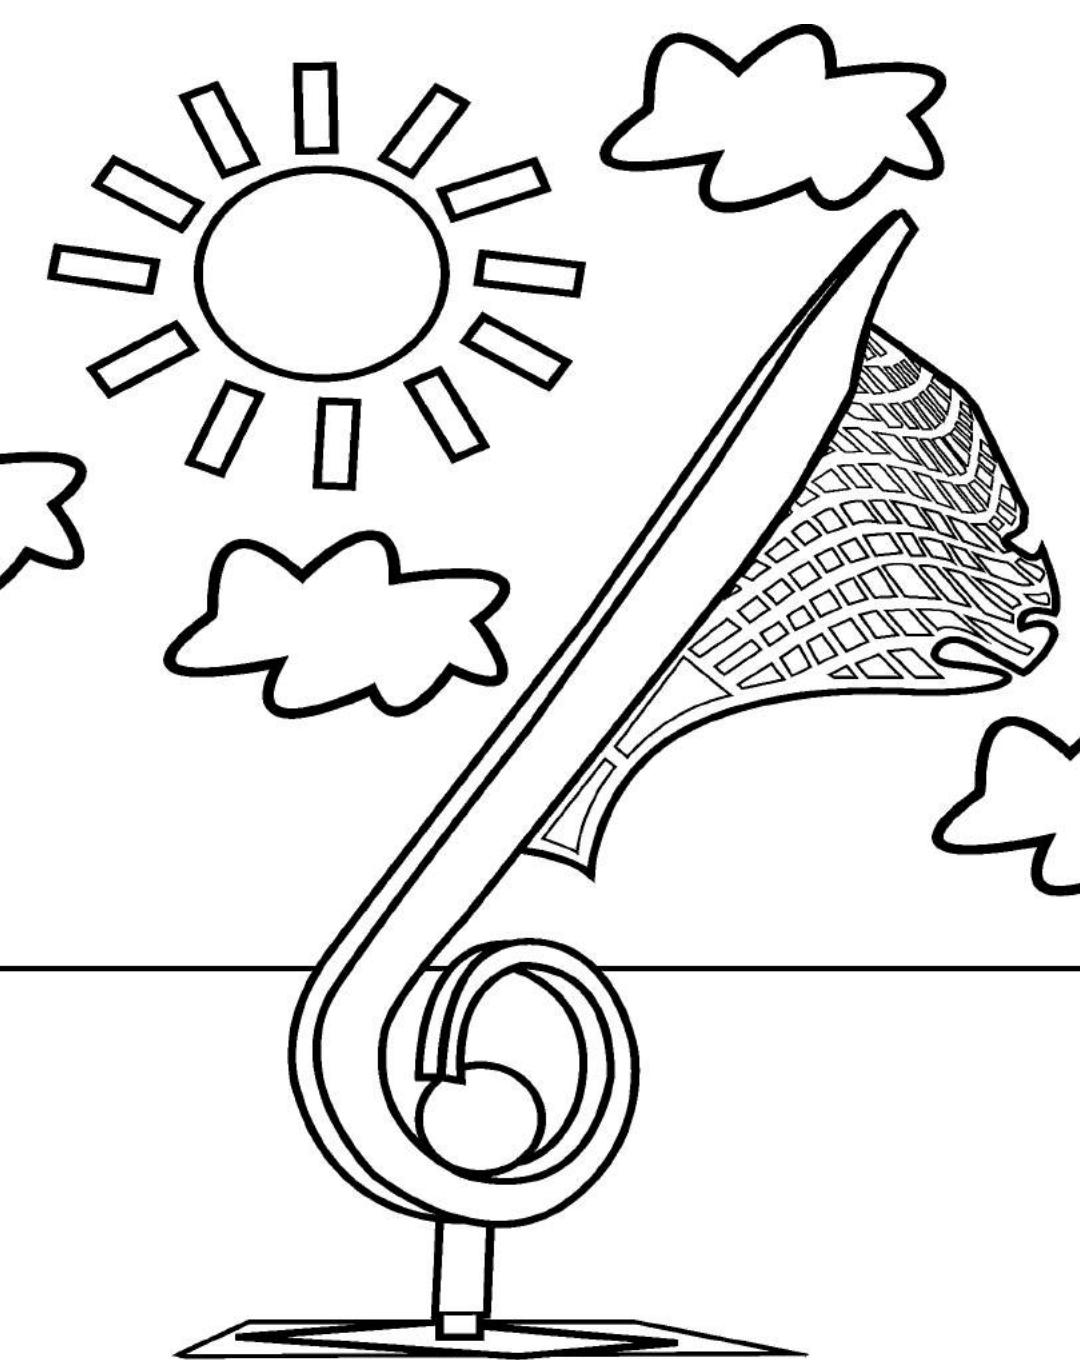

NW Corner of Broadway & 12th Street

"Fountain for Man and Beast"

Artist UnKnown

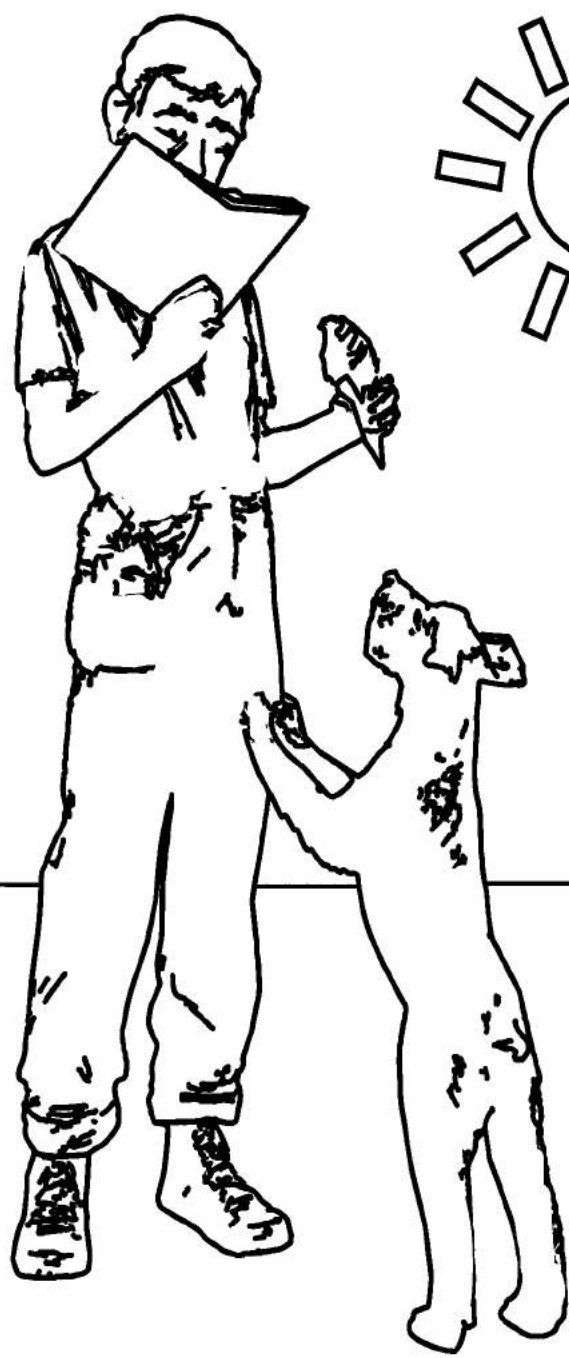

Median at 10th Street & Broadway

"Garden"

By Marc Moulten

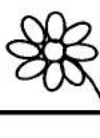

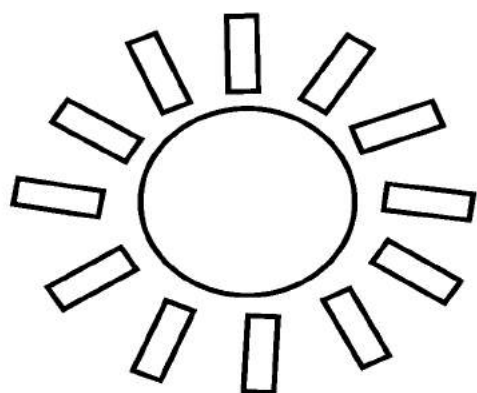

SW Corner of Broadway & 10th

"Saturday Distraction"

By Sherri Treeby

1012 Broadway

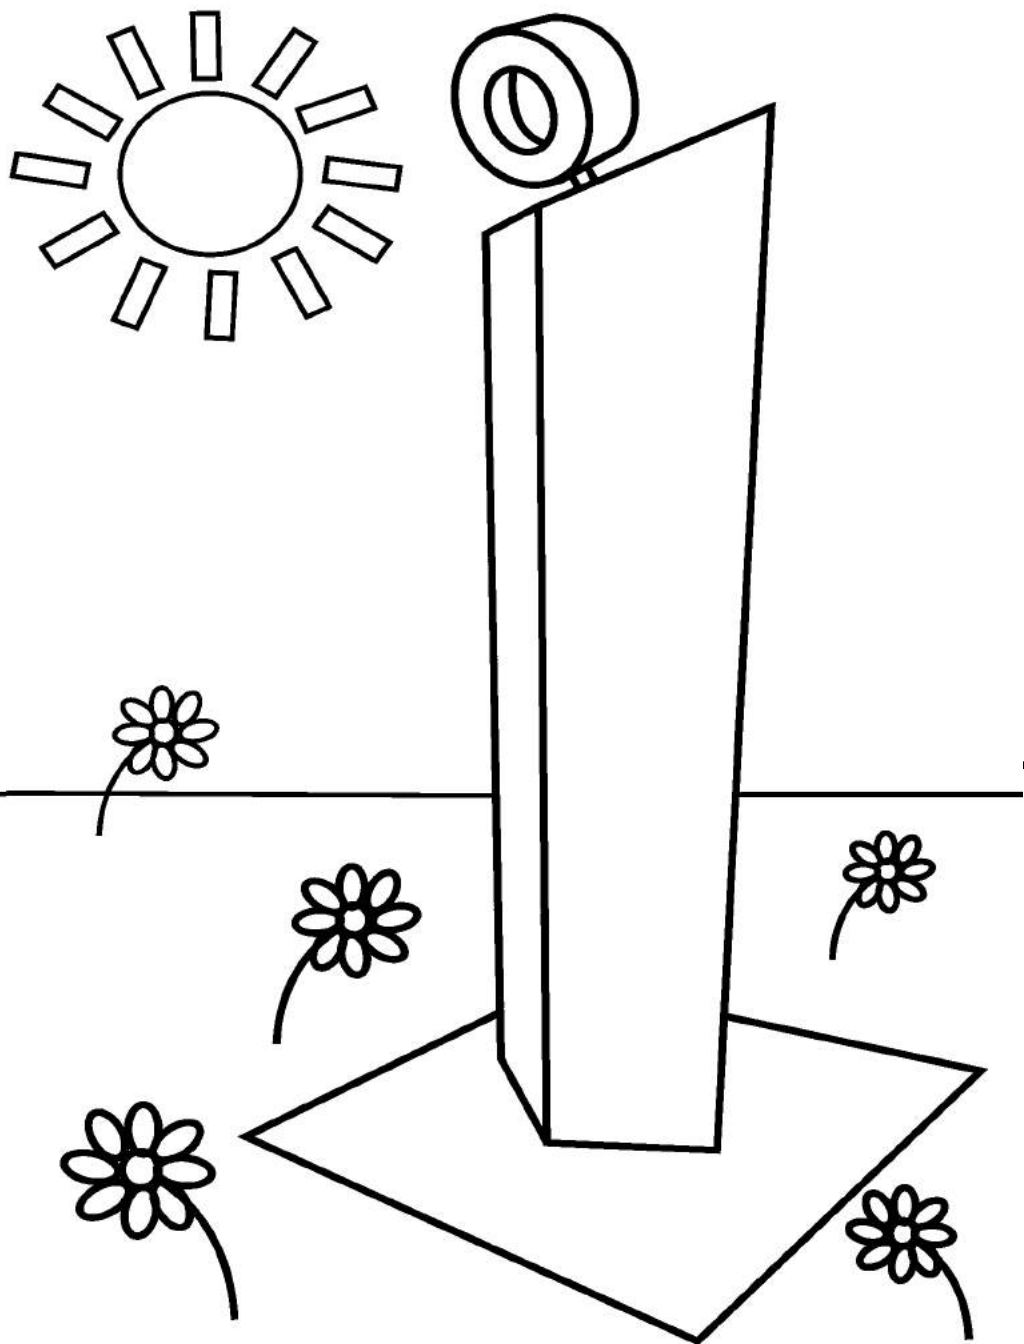

Mural

By Hense

1211 Broadway

"Here and Now"

By Zack Tittel

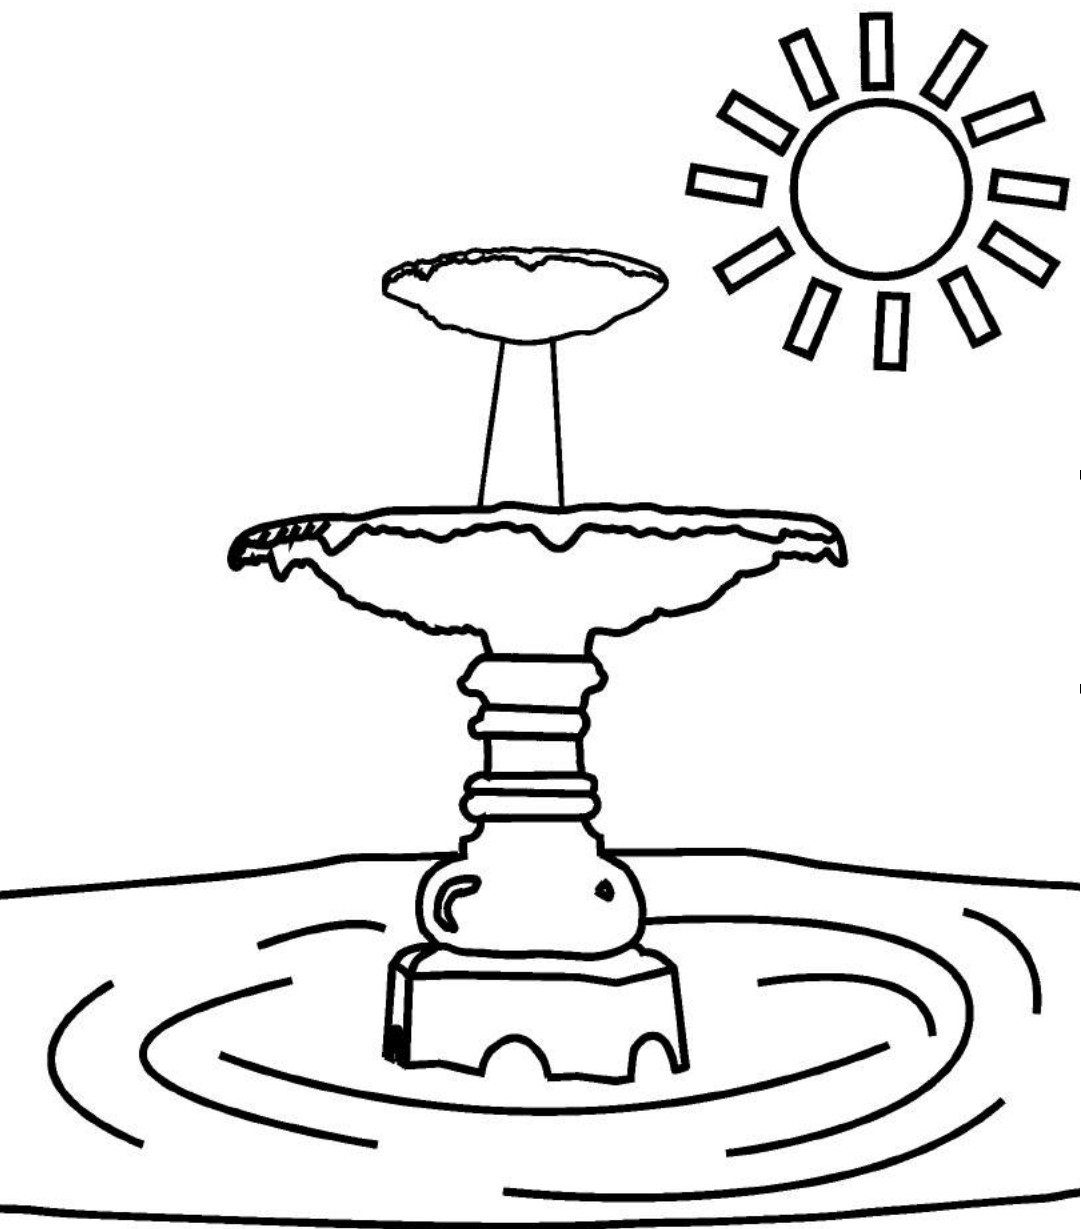

NW Corner of Broadway & 11th

"Mayflower"

By Susan Geisler

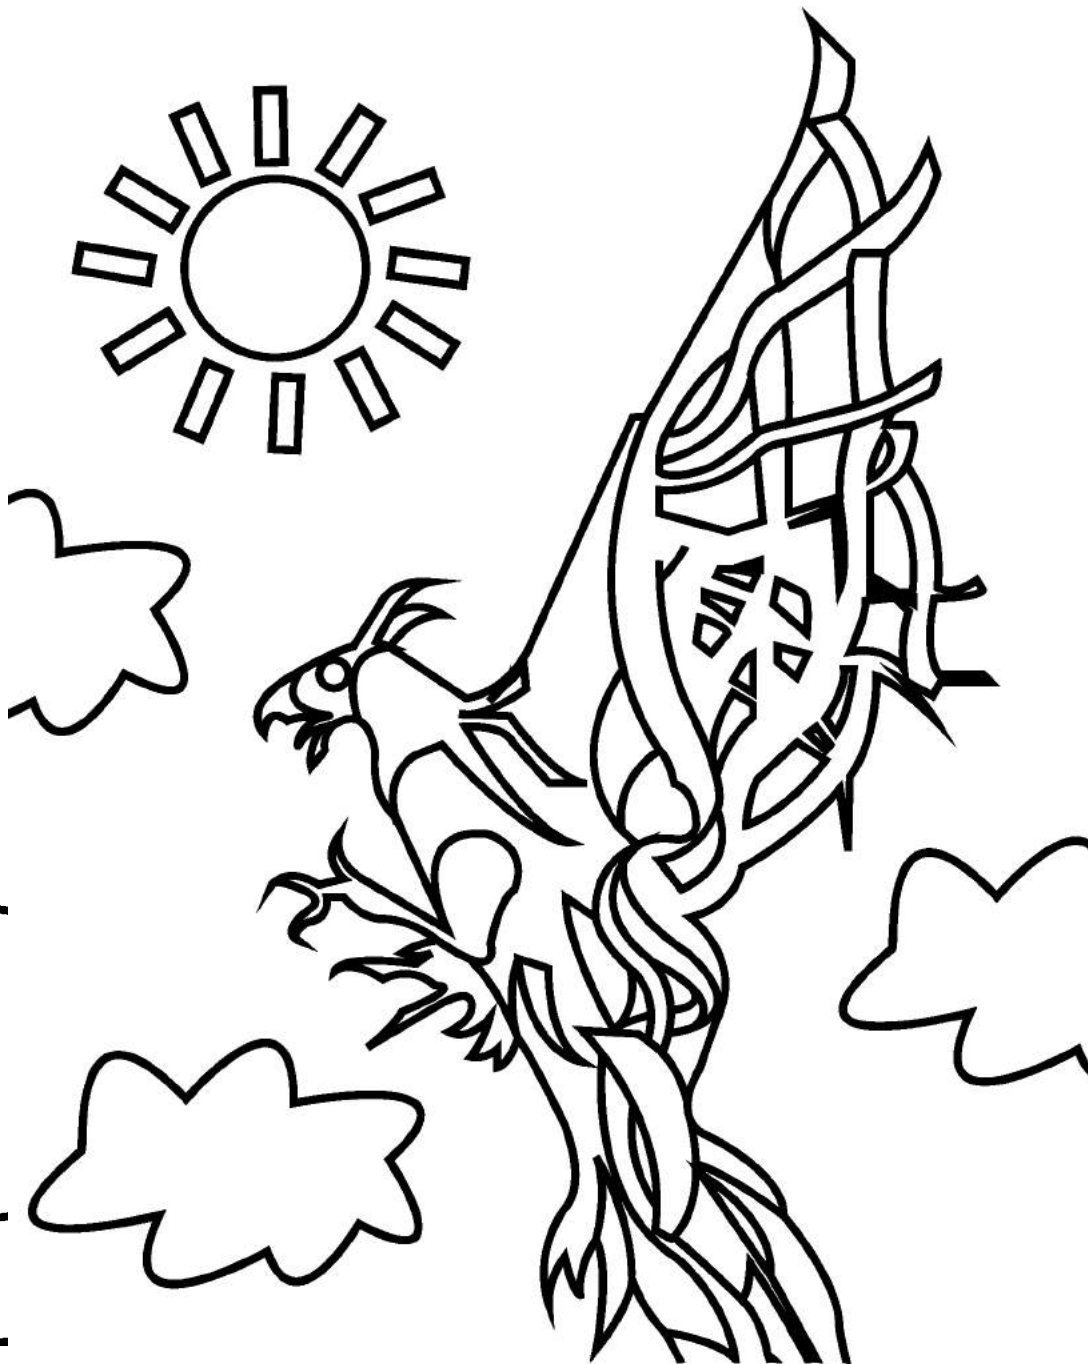

NE Corner of Broadway & 10th Street

"Old Courthouse Fountain"

Artist Unknown

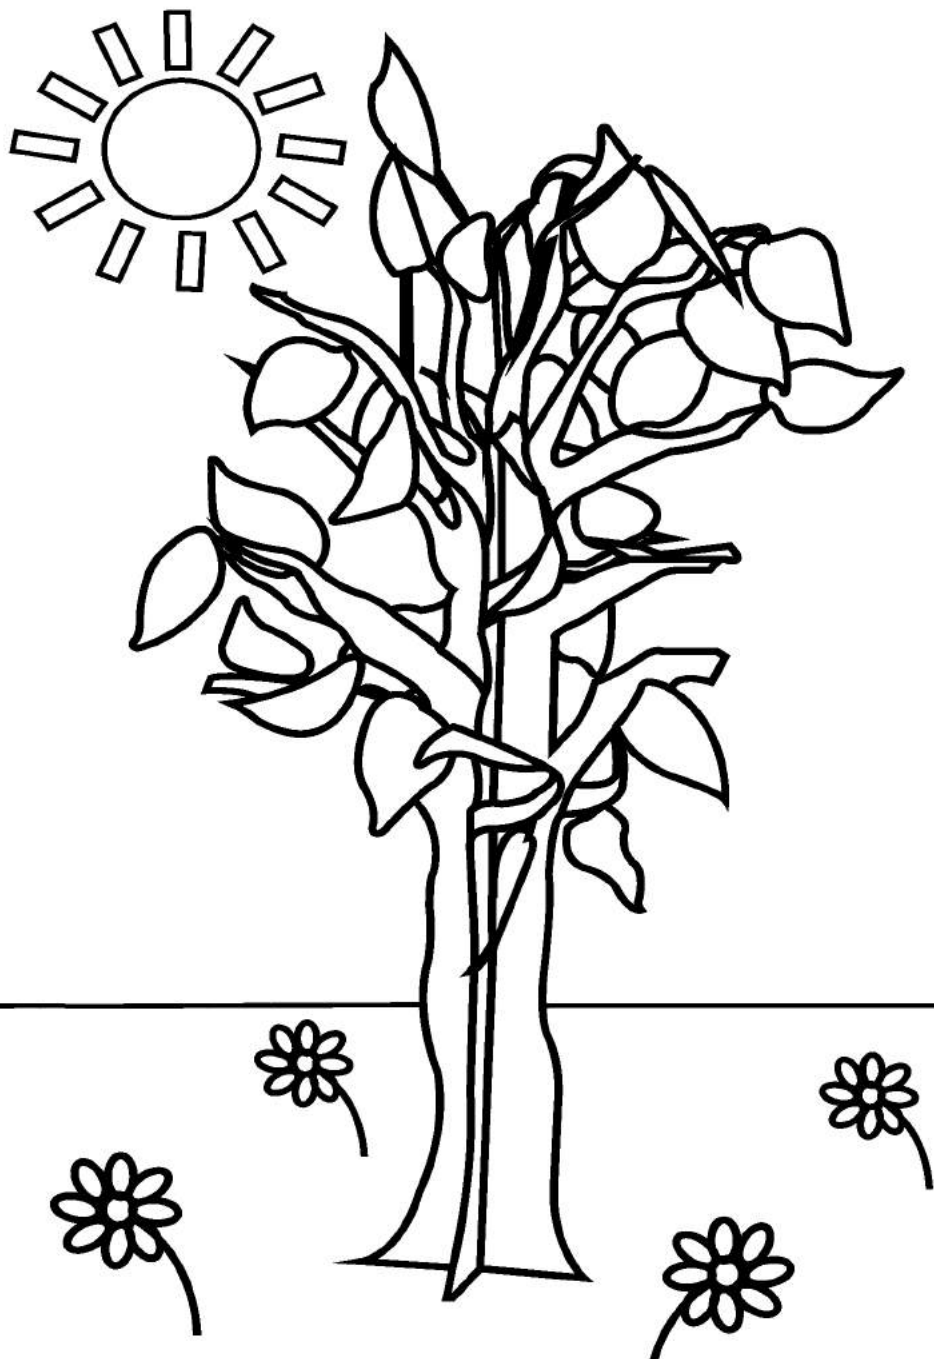

405 Broadway

"Phoenix"

By Jon Lumpkin

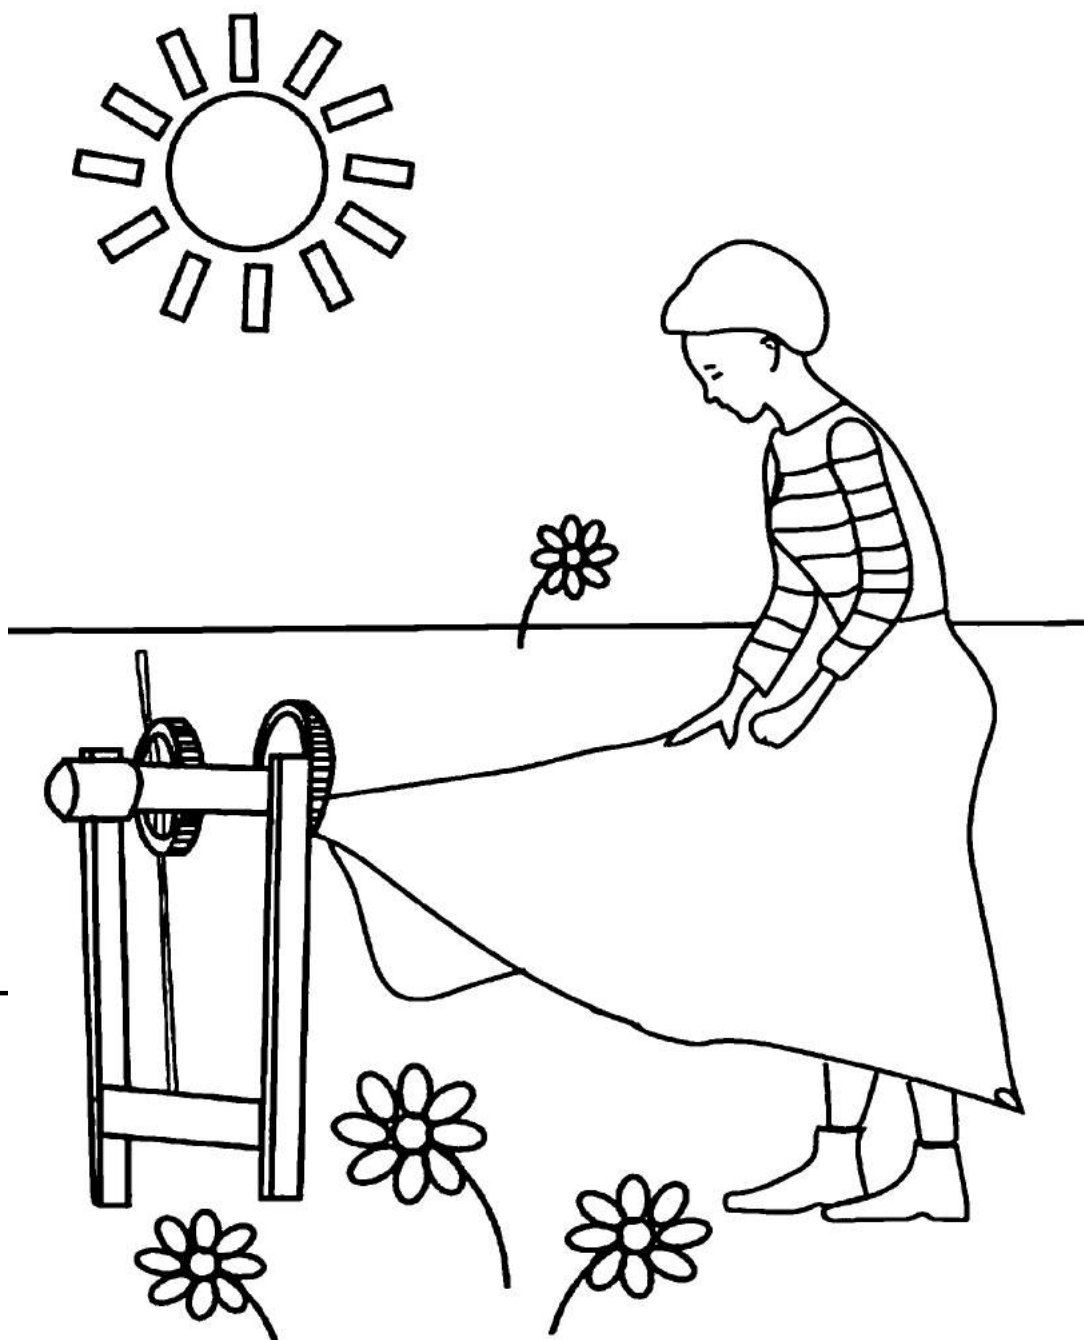

NW Corner of Broadway & 10th

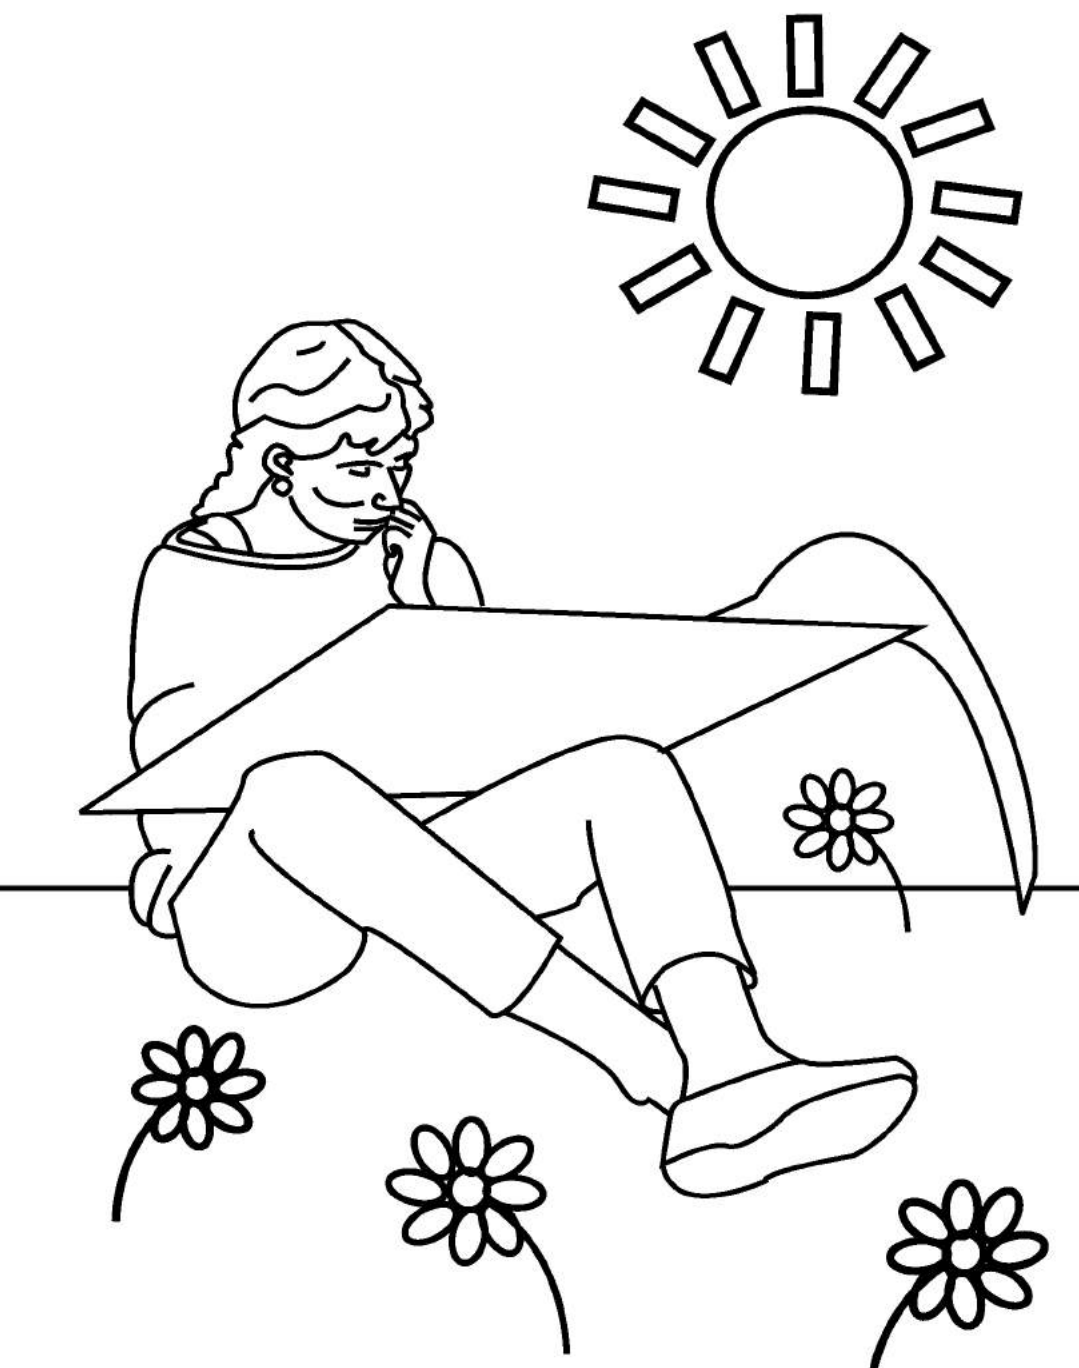

"The Peace Tree"

Thompson-Pound Art Project, 2007

1148 Broadway

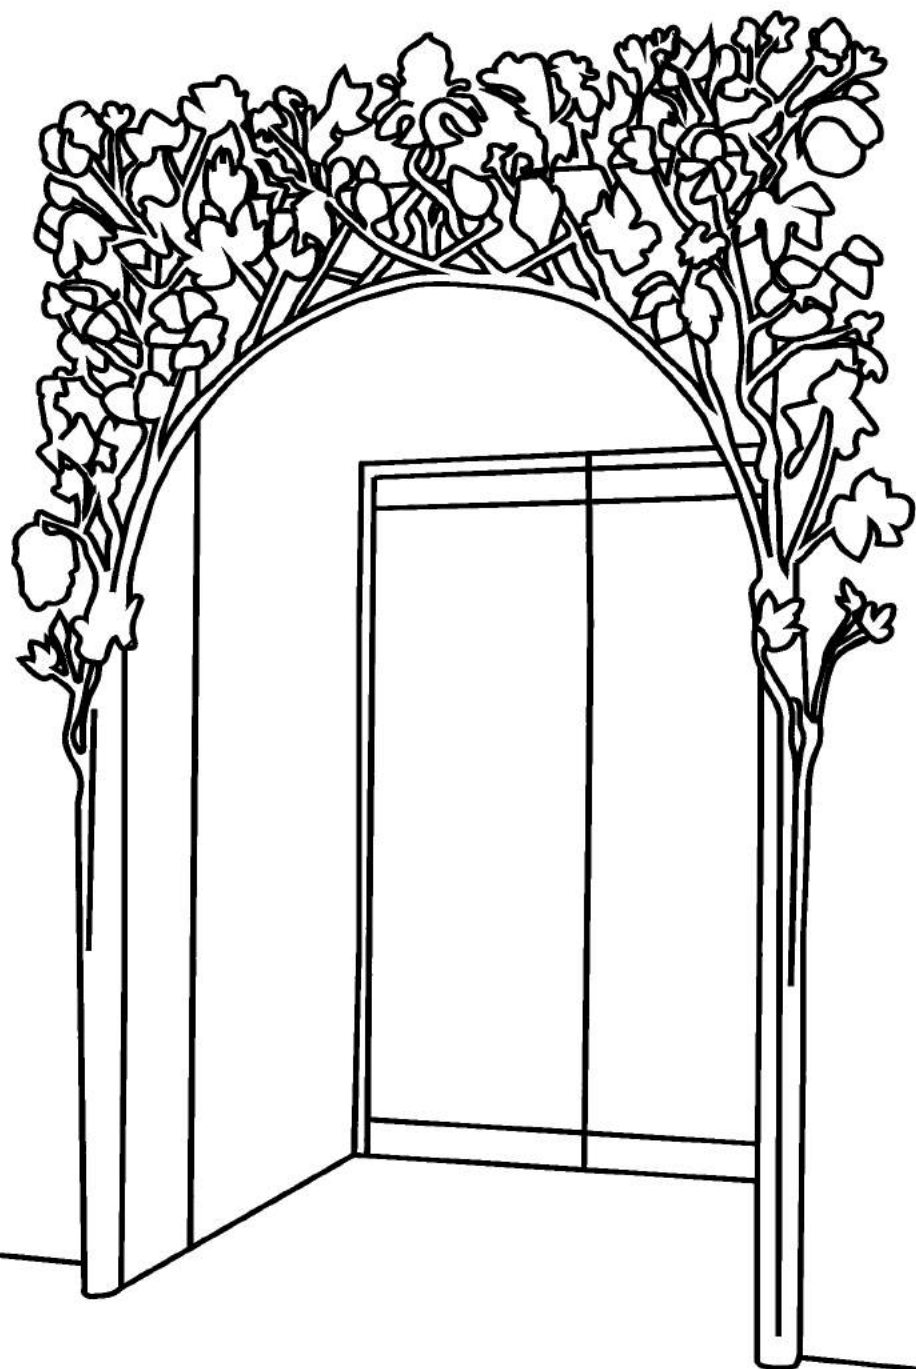

"A Simple Act of Kindness"
By George Goddard & Jon Lumpkin
1140 Broadway, CB&T Courtyard

"When Now Becomes Then"

By J. Steward Johnson, JR.

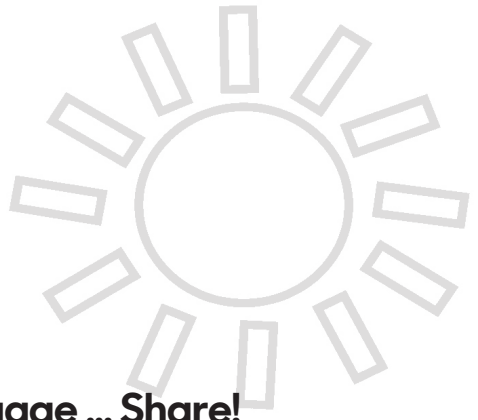

Riverwalk in front of Synovus

"Evolution of the Cotton Plant"

By Dimitri GeraKaris

W.C. Bradley Museum, 1041 Front Avenue

Entertain, Educate, Engage ... Share!

Based on the Artbeat Mission to entertain, educate and engage, we decided an Artbeat Coloring Book would be a perfect addition to the 2016 festivities. Although, the first audience we thought of as we developed this project was children, now coloring books have become quite a passion among the adult community. Perhaps the age level is "for the young and young at heart."

We hope many will post their finished coloring sheets to our Facebook page Artbeat of Columbus and our website artbeatcolumbus.org. It will be fun to see the creative interpretations of these pieces of the Artbeat Walk. You can also print additional copies of each page from our website.

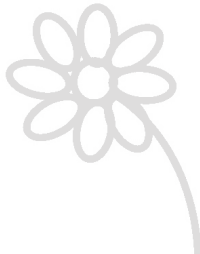

Special thanks go to the Columbus State University Art Department led by the graphic design teacher, Chuck Lawson and the graphic design class. They did a splendid job of creating the first Artbeat Coloring Book.

Helen Johnson

Chairman, The Artbeat Fund

Rick McKnight

Chairman, Artbeat 2016

“Photoplay”
Midtown, Inc.
Lakebottom Park,
near 13th Street

CSU Graphic Designers

Ashlee Burgess

Shelbi Guyton

Kyshmah McNeill

Mckenzie Wilkes

Erin Bozone

Taylor Bardon

Shaheed Muhammed